

Inflation Watch

Gain clear visibility into inflation impact and cost trends to spot opportunities and navigate risks.

In today's turbulent global economy, procurement teams face significant challenges due to inflation and market volatility. Existing inflation forecasting methods, which have traditionally used broad national indicators, have proven to be inadequate in providing the precision needed for quick and contextualized decision-making.

Beroe's Inflation Watch provides a clear view of your inflation exposure, delivering insights into key cost drivers and price forecasts for commodities, labor, and energy.

Contextualized to your spend profile, it helps you identify cost-saving opportunities and diversify risks, safeguarding margins and optimizing spend in a volatile market.

"Inflation management ranks as a top-4 priority for procurement organizations in 2025."
